

Wild Basin wins

The Austin American Statesman (1973-1987); Jul 2, 1977;

ProQuest Historical Newspapers: The Austin American Statesman

pg. A8

Wild Basin wins

The Wild Basin Wilderness Park. It has a nice ring to it.

Rich and poor, young and old, developers and conservationists, entertainers, laborers, — every type of person it takes to make up a community — helped put the Wild Basin fund drive over the top.

Parents carried babies into the Wild Basin headquarters and put down donations for their children's future. School children donated their allowances. Area businesses gave both money and expertise. The response was overwhelming. People put their hearts into it.

If ever a park belongs to the people, it's the Wild Basin Wilderness Park.